WITH THE FUNNY MEN

The Way of It

"When my friend was traveling in England he met with a footpad, who ordered him to give up all the pounds he had about him."

"I suppose he handed them over with celerity."

"Not a bit of it. He handed them over with his fists."

Analyzing the Situation

"I don't think Reginald is going to propose, mother, dear."

"But, Gladys, he is constantly buying you the most expensive presents."

"They are what convince me that he will never be able to rent a flat and pay the first installment on the furniture."

As Viewed in Perspective

"What has become of the old-time political boss?"

"The type is obsolete," replied Senator Sorghum. "And his authority in political affairs never became broad enough to warrant the title. He was never a real boss. He was merely a profiteer."

Experience

"If the applicant for a stenographer's position here is a married woman, I won't have her."

"What difference will that make if she is a good worker?"

"Don't matter what kind of a worker she is. Married women won't take dictation."

Long Sitter

"There is one thing which that young lawyer fellow of Ella's ought to be proficient in when he comes to practice."

"What is that?"

"The art of securing a stay."

REFUTING A SLANDER

The Tourist: You have a good many earthquakes here, don't you?

The Native Son: Never an earthquake. That story was started by some Eastern prudes who were shocked when the earth did a shimmy now and then.

On Deck

The boy upon the burning deck Expressed himself with vim; "If I get out of this, by heck, You bet I'll learn to swim!"

Explained

"I met a man I know this morning who has always been prosperous and now he is running to seed."

"What's the trouble?"

"No trouble. He's a farmer hurrying to do his late planting."

Fussy

"Fussy, isn't he?"

"I'll say so. His wife's away and he has to get his own meals. He washes the dishes after each meal and actually makes up his bed before he leaves home in the morning."

A Little Mixed

"What is an embargo, Bill?"

"It's what you put on ships to keep 'em from going out, Sam."

"It ain't, you fool. That's the anchor."

Her Job

"The girl in the phonograph department isn't a bit stuck up."

"Of course not."

"Yet she is continually putting on airs."

Consummation to Be Wished

"There is one thing I would like to see at the peace table."

"What is that?"

"Somebody who knows how to carve Turkey."

He Knew

Footpad—Hold up your hands!

Pedestrian (calmly)—I've been out shopping all day with my wife.

Footpad—Go! You can't have much.—London Tit-Bits.

Quite the Truth

"Why don't you have Madame Plut-tes make your gowns?"

"If I went to that woman and she tried to make a gown to suit my figure, I'd have a fit!"

Natural Conclusion

"What are you in here for?" inquired the visitor of the convict.

"For the simple reason," replied the convict, "that I can't get out."

Another Way of It

"Well, I've got to go today and face the music."

"Why are you in trouble?"

"No; I conduct a band."

A Distinction

"What's your claim to distinction?"

"I never sent a friend a picture postcard with the wish you were here' gag on it."

Special Purchase
